7. This Court has personal jurisdiction over Defendants because they regularly transact business in this Court's jurisdiction by selling products through their storefronts via various Internet platforms, such Amazon.com, Alibaba.com, eBay.com, and Walmart.com.

8. Each Defendant has either sold and shipped an infringing product to this forum or demonstrated its desire and ability to do so. This is demonstrated in the Affidavit of Jiyuan Zhang, ¶ 5, and supporting exhibits D001 to D162 thereto. In particular these contain sales and shipment records of some Defendants. For others, there are records of placing the infringing product in the platform's checkout with the proper address, although the product was ultimately unpurchased.

9. Specifically, each Defendant sent at least one Hanging Exercise Product or was willing to send it to an address located at 1407 Broadway, Room 202, New York NY 10018-3869. This is within the geographic jurisdiction for this Court.

10. The precise dates of sale and delivery are specific to the individual Defendants that were purchased. See, Jiyuan Zhang, ¶ 6. Exhibits D001 to D162.

11. Venue is proper because a substantial part of the events giving rise to the claims occurred in this district. IV. FACTS

13. Plaintiff is in the business of innovating, producing, and selling equipment for backyard obstacle courses that are inspired by the show "American Ninja Warrior."

14. The '673 patent, entitled "Walking Flat Belt Having Hanging Exercise Means", was filed on March 21, 2020, and issued on October 25, 2022 and named Zhaogen Liu as the inventor. Attached as Exhibit A is a true and correct copy of the '673 patent.

15. The '673 patent claims priority to Chinese Application No. CN 2019203699, filed on March 22, 2020.

16. The '673 patent has one independent claim and seven dependent claims.

17. The text of Claim one, the sole independent claim, is reproduced below.

A walking flat belt, comprising a mounting member, a sling body, a hanging obstacle, and a connecting member; wherein the mounting member is mounted to the sling body and comprises a rectangular shaped buckle and a flat strap to receive the rectangular shaped buckle; the rectangular shaped buckle, including a mouthpiece element, made of a pair of horizontal members and a pair of vertical members and a partition element, located in the mouthpiece element; wherein two ends of the partition element are connected with the vertical members of the mouthpiece element to form one integral piece; the partition element divides an area enclosed by the mouthpiece element to a first connection area and second connection area; wherein one end of the flat strap passes through the first connection area, then passes over the partition element and then passes through the second connection area, and is connected with an other end of the flat strap.

18. Upon information and belief, each Defendant infringes and continues to infringe Claim 1 of the '673 patent by making, using, offering to sell, intending to sell¹, and selling the Hanging Exercise Products throughout the United States, including in this judicial District.

19. The basis of this belief is established upon a review of the products of various Defendants.

20. For the convenience of the court, Exhibits C, D, E, F, and G to this Complaint are five representative sample claim charts that correspond to Defendants Jugador, Joymor, Dripex, Autofonder, and ACX, respectively. Each claim chart analyzes the Hanging Exercise Products as sold by each Defendant against Claim 1 of the '637 patent. Every element of Claim 1 is satisfied by the Hanging Exercise Products that are sold by these Defendants.

21. Upon information and belief, the other Defendants sell Hanging Exercise Products that are substantially similar in structure to the products analyzed in these claim charts. As such, each of the Defendants on Schedule A would also meet each and every element of Claim 1 of the '637 patent.

22. The basis of this belief is a review of the products on each of the websites for these Defendants, which are provided in the aforementioned Affidavit of Jiyuan Zhang, ¶ 5, Ex. D001 to D162. In further support of this belief, the Affidavit of Jiyuan Zhang, ¶ 6, Ex. B also contains a chart with pictures from the relevant portions from each website. A review of each of these shows substantially similar structural properties which are interchangeable with the structures in the five representative sample claim charts.

23. For the convenience of the Court, only five representative claim charts are provided as doing one for each of the Defendants on Schedule A would be a highly voluminous record. However, claim charts for any other Defendant can be provided at the request of the Court.

24. Defendants actively manufacture, market, and distribute Hanging Exercise Products, which is covered by the '637 patent.

25. Defendants' sales of the Hanging Exercise Products are without authority or permission from Plaintiff.

26. Defendants have caused and will continue to cause Plaintiff substantial damages and injury including Plaintiff's loss of unique product positioning and lost profits due to lost sales by virtue of Defendants' past and continuing infringement of the '637 patents.

27. Plaintiff will suffer further damage and injury unless and until Defendants are enjoined by this Court from continuing such infringement.

28. The damage caused by Defendants is irreparable and cannot be adequately compensated for solely in monetary damages.
