COMPLAINT

Plaintiffs, River Road Jet Boats, LLC and Waimed Enterprises, LLC (“Plaintiffs”), bring this Complaint against Defendant, Rock Proof Boats LLC (“Defendant”), and allege as follows:

PARTIES

1. Plaintiff River Road Jet Boats, LLC (“River Road Jet Boats”) is a limited liability company organized and existing under the laws of Virginia, having its principal place of business at 122 Rocky Hill Rd., Madison Heights, VA, 24572. River Road Jet Boats designs, develops, manufactures, and markets outboard jet motors for riverboats. Plaintiff Waimed Enterprises, LLC (“Waimed”) is a limited liability company organized and existing under the laws of Virginia, having its principal place of business at 2303 Yorktown Avenue, Lynchburg, VA, 24501. Waimed is the assignee of U.S. Patent No. 10,618,619 (“the ’619 Patent”) and U.S. Patent No. 11,649,027 (“the ’027 Patent”) (collectively “Plaintiffs’ Patents”).

2. Upon information and belief, Defendant is a limited liability company organized and existing under the laws of Pennsylvania having its registered office at 407 Mountain Road,

Marysville, PA 17053. On information and belief, Defendant designs, develops, manufactures, and/or markets riverboats and accompanying components.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

3. This is an action for patent infringement arising under the patent laws of the United States, 35 U.S.C. §§ 100, et seq., and more particularly, 35 U.S.C. §§ 271 and 281. This action also arises out of section 43(a) of the Lanham Act, 15 U.S.C. § 1125 and the Defend Trade Secrets Act, 18 U.S.C. § 1836, et seq. Plaintiffs' state law claims arise out of the common law of the Commonwealth of Virginia as well as the Virginia Uniform Trade Secrets Act, Virginia Code § 59.1-336, et seq.

4. This Court has original jurisdiction over the subject matter of this action pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1331 and 1338(a).

5. This Court has supplemental jurisdiction over Plaintiffs' state law claims under 28 U.S.C. § 1367(a), because the state law claims are so related to the federal claims that they form part of the same case or controversy and derive from a common nucleus of operative fact.

6. This Court has personal jurisdiction over Defendant pursuant to Virginia Code § 8.01-328.1(A)(1), (3) and (4) because this action arises from Defendant: (1) transacting business in Virginia; (3) causing tortious injury by acts or omissions in Virginia; and (4) causing tortious injury in Virginia by acts or omissions outside Virginia and regularly doing or soliciting business in Virginia, engaging in a persistent course of conduct in Virginia and deriving substantial revenue from services rendered in Virginia. Defendant also has purposefully directed its business activities toward Virginia. While engaging in this conduct, it was reasonably foreseeable that Defendant would be subjected to this Court's jurisdiction.

7. Venue is proper in this judicial district under 28 U.S.C. §§ 1391(b) and (c), and 1400(b) because a substantial part of the events or omissions giving rise to the claim occurred in this District, and Defendant is subject to personal jurisdiction in this District.

PLAINTIFFS' PATENTS

8. River Road Jet Boats is a leader in the design, development, and marketing of outboard jet motors for riverboats. Its products are sold throughout the U.S. Plaintiff has also expended substantial sums in pursuing patents in the U.S. to protect its rights to its inventions.

9. Waimed is the lawful owner of all right, title, and interest in U.S. Patent No. 10,618,619 (“the ’619 Patent”) and U.S. Patent No. 11,649,027 (“the ’027 Patent”) (collectively “Plaintiffs’ Patents”). Copies of each patent are attached hereto as Exhibits A and B, respectively. Plaintiffs’ Patents have been duly and legally issued by the United States Patent and Trademark Office (“USPTO”).

THE ’619 PATENT

10. The ’619 Patent describes and claims a device for fitting an outboard jet nozzle on an outboard jet motor (see, e.g., claim 1, along with its dependent claims).

11. The device includes, among other things, a directional device for an outboard jet motor comprising a conduit adapted to fit around a jet nozzle of an outboard jet motor and a way to steer the directional device.

THE ’027 PATENT

12. The ’027 Patent describes and claims an acceptor device for securing an outboard jet motor to a watercraft (see, e.g., independent claims 1, 11, and 15, along with its dependent claims) and an inventive boat hull (see, e.g., claim 16, along with its dependent claims).

13. In the device of claim 1, among other things, the acceptor device secures an outboard jet motor to a watercraft, comprising one or more shrouded opening(s) shaped and sized for communication with an intake of one or more outboard jet motor(s).

14. In the device of claim 1, the acceptor device is configured to provide the outboard jet motor intake disposed at an angle that slopes upwardly toward the watercraft and wherein the acceptor device is configured to elevate at least a portion of the intake of the outboard jet motor above a bottom surface of the watercraft. (See also, independent claims 11 and 15 and all related dependent claims.)

15. The boat hull of claim 16 (and its dependent claims) includes a boat hull comprising a transom for supporting an outboard jet motor and a tunnel disposed in a bottom surface of the hull and extending to the transom.

16. The device of claim 16 (and its dependent claims) also includes an adaptor disposed where the transom and the tunnel meet, the adaptor comprising a shrouded opening for communication with the outboard jet motor at an intake of the outboard jet motor.

17. In the device of claim 16, the tunnel is configured for directing a flow of water through the tunnel, into the adapter, and into the intake of the outboard jet motor.

18. In the device of claim 16, the adapter is configured to provide the outboard jet motor intake disposed at an angle that slopes upwardly toward the tunnel.

DEFENDANT'S UNLAWFUL CONDUCT

Patent Infringement and Unfair Competition

19. From around January of 2023 to around June of 2023, River Road Jet Boats and Defendant engaged in extensive communications with the intent to enter into a contractual relationship through which Defendant would make, use, or sell products and/or buy products covered by the Plaintiffs’ Patents. Some of those communications are included as Exhibit C to this complaint.

20. Thereafter, Defendant, made, used, offered for sale, and/or sold within the United States, a directional device for fitting an outboard jet motor jet nozzle and an acceptor device for outboard jet motors named the “Nozzle Jett” (the “Accused Product”).

21. Information about the Accused Product is available on Defendant’s website at www.rockproofboats.com/nozzle-jett/ (the “Website”). On information and belief, a promotional video for the Accused Product at <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=PBr3yKrGtaU> also provides a demonstration of the Accused Product.

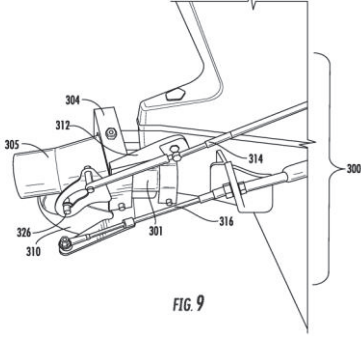

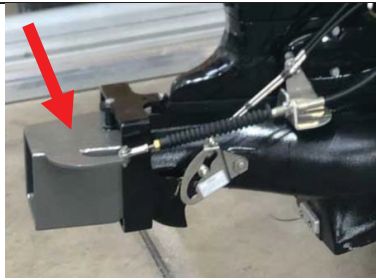

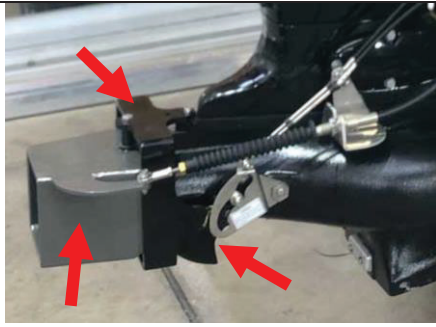

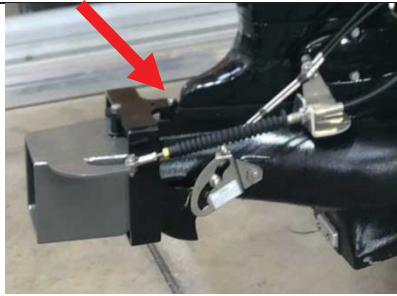

22. The Website describes the Accused Product as follows:

Nozzle Jett (Patent Pending)

The Rock Proof Boats Nozzle Jett is the newest model to emerge from our shop. With our innovative design, an outboard jet motor is locked into place allowing you to turn the nozzle to steer the boat – not the motor. This allows you to steer the boat just as you would one of our popular inboard jet boats such as the River Rocket or River Jett.

23. As identified in the following claim chart, the Accused Product includes all of the limitations of at least claim 1 of the ’619 Patent:

Claim 1 of U.S. Patent No. 10,618,619
Claim 1 Elements:	Pictures from rockproofboats.com	Infringement Analysis
A directional device for an outboard jet motor comprising:		Defendant copies as its so-called “Nozzle Jett”

a first pair of axles in communication with the outer frame and the conduit;		Defendant provides a first pair of axles in communication with the outer frame and conduit for steering purposes.

wherein the outer frame and the steering nozzle are capable of rotating relative to the conduit along a first axis defined by the first pair of axles.		This element is infringed, as pictured to the left, as Defendant's product is capable of rotating its outer frame and steering nozzle relative to the conduit along an axis defined by the first pair of axles. Defendant's product even has the steering element identical to the patent figure pasted above.

24. As identified in the following claim chart, the Accused Product includes all of the limitations of at least claim 1 (and similarly claims 11 and 15) and claim 16 of the '027 Patent:

Claim 1 of U.S. Patent No. 11,649,027
An acceptor device for securing an outboard jet motor to a watercraft, the acceptor device comprising:		Defendant's acceptor device is shown. It is for securing an outboard jet motor to a watercraft, as this non-limiting intended use is to secure the motor. Without the acceptor device, the pump and motor will not operate at an acceptable output. (See, e.g., col. 2, ll. 14-17 ("Fixing the outboard jet motor in this way to the 15 transom and the adapter will restrict rotation of the motor in any direction once mounted and maintain optimal flow of water

		into the intake.”) The fact that the motor is fastened to the transom in a conventional manner is not relevant, as the patent states the motor can be affixed to the transom—as required by law—in a conventional manner, such as by bolting or welding. (See, e.g., col. 13, l. 55 – col. 14, l. 22.). Moreover, there is not a limiting, recited element in the claim about how the motor is affixed to the boat or other component.
one or more shrouded opening(s) shaped and sized for communication with an intake of one or more outboard jet motor(s);		The opening of Defendant’s acceptor device has the shrouded element as shown in the patent figures and described in the specification. It is shaped and sized for communication with an intake of one or more outboard jet motors, as shown in the picture.

Claim 16 of U.S. Patent No. 11,649,027
Claim 16 Elements:	Pictures from rockproofboats.com, and pictures from communications from Defendant (See, Exhibit C ).	Infringement Analysis
A boat hull comprising:		A boat hull is pictured.
a transom for supporting an outboard jet motor;		The motor is supported by the transom.

a tunnel disposed in a bottom surface of the hull and extending to the transom; and (See, Exhibit C).

an adapter disposed where the transom and the tunnel meet, the adapter comprising a shrouded opening for communication with the outboard jet motor at an intake of the outboard jet motor;		Showing adaptor with shrouded opening and in communication with the motor intake.
wherein the tunnel is configured for directing a flow of water through the tunnel, into the adapter, and into the intake of the outboard jet motor; and		Flow of water goes through the tunnel on the bottom of the boat, into the adapter, and into the intake, as configured from the myriad pictures above.
wherein the adapter is configured to provide the outboard jet motor intake disposed at an angle that slopes upwardly toward the tunnel.		Intake slopes upwards, as pictured.

25. On May 19, 2023, Defendant’s attorney, Jeffrey Habib of Hooker & Habin PC, wrote Maston Basten of River Road Jet Boats, LLC and the prosecuting attorney for Plaintiffs’

Patents, Michele Mayberry of New River Valley Intellectual Property PC, a letter acknowledging Plaintiffs' patents and allegations of infringement. (See, Exhibit D).

26. Upon information and belief, Defendant's continued infringement after notice of the patents and allegations of its infringement thereof is deliberate, intentional, and willful.

Trade Secret Misappropriation

27. From around January of 2023 to around June of 2023, River Road Jet Boats and Defendant engaged in extensive communications, including text message, with the intent to enter into a contractual relationship through which Defendant would use trade secrets related to River Road Jet Boats' know-how related to the patented technology. Defendant was provided access to and agreed not to improperly possess, use or disclose Plaintiffs' confidential and proprietary technology.

28. River Road Jet Boats, through extensive effort and the expenditure of considerable amounts of time and money over several years, has developed commercially valuable confidential and proprietary information and trade secrets, including, without limitation, business, product, project, cost, pricing, financial, and customer information and other confidential and proprietary information which would cause competitive harm to River Road Jet Boats if misappropriated, disclosed or used by others ("River Road Jet Boats' Confidential Information").

29. River Road Jet Boats' Confidential Information is a valuable commercial asset of River Road Jet Boats, and River Road Jet Boats has guarded the secrecy of River Road Jet Boats' Confidential Information from disclosure to competitors or other persons and entities outside of River Road Jet Boats. River Road Jet Boats derives independent economic value from River Road Jet Boats' Confidential Information not being generally known or readily ascertainable by others.

At all times, River Road Jet Boats has engaged in reasonable efforts to maintain the secrecy of River Road Jet Boats' Confidential Information.

30. The River Road Jet Boats' Confidential Information constitutes trade secrets under the DTSA and the VUTSA.

31. At all times, River Road Jet Boats has engaged in reasonable efforts to maintain the secrecy of this River Road Jet Boats' Confidential Information. Those trade secrets are only provided to others on a need-to-know basis subject to appropriate confidentiality and non-disclosure restrictions.

32. Defendant worked with River Road Jet Boats over several months and was provided access to and agreed not to improperly possess, use or disclose River Road Jet Boat's confidential and proprietary technology

33. Plaintiff entrusted Defendant with this River Road Jet Boats' Confidential Information. Defendant, in its communications with River Road Jet Boats, acquired knowledge of River Road Jet Boats' Confidential Information and agreed that it had no right to use or disclose. Unfortunately, Plaintiffs' trust in Defendant was misplaced.

41. Defendant, on the Website, claims that there is a "Patent Pending" for the Accused Product when Waimed is the sole owner of the intellectual property rights in Plaintiffs' Patents:

Nozzle Jett (Patent Pending)

The Rock Proof Boats Nozzle Jett is the newest model to emerge from our shop. With our innovative design, an outboard jet motor is locked into place allowing you to turn the nozzle to steer the boat – not the motor. This allows you to steer the boat just as you would one of our popular inboard jet boats such as the River Rocket or River Jett.

42. Defendant's unauthorized marketing and sale of the Accused Product in interstate commerce using the false claim that the Accused Property has a valid "Patent Pending" constitutes
